Life Term Faced By R. C. Kidnaper On Plea of Guilty

Kelly Martin, 31, San Francisco dishwasher, Monday pleaded guilty to two charges of first degree robbery and one count of kidnaping to commit robbery, and as a result faced a life in prison.

Martin will come before Judge Maxwell McNutt Thursday for sentence. He faces a maximum of life for kidnaping, five years to life on each robbery count, and no probation prior to 12 years because of two prior convictions he admitted in court. One was for violation of postal laws and the other for aggravated robbery in Colorado.

Martin and his employer, William P. Sunke, 39, owner of a San Francisco restaurant, were arrested in San Jose Dec. 22 a few hours after a Redwood City Safeway store had been robbed and its assistant manager, R. E. Hubby, had been kidnapped.

Sunke will be tried Mar. 28.

Albert Yows, San Francisco, charged with stealing hundreds of dollars worth of valves from freight cars at Brisbane, pleaded guilty and asked probation. The case was continued two weeks.

Lee Norris, San Francisco, charged with felony drunk driving as the result of an automobile accident at Millbrae in which Mrs. Frances Bishop Dowden of Burlingame was injured, pleaded guilty to a misdemeanor charge and asked probation. His case also went over for two weeks.

Eighth of Judge Hardy Films Being Shown at Theater Here

Tender heart interest, comedy, thrills and poignant drama mingle in a gripping blend in "Judge Hardy and Son," latest of the Hardy Family series, now showing at the Redwood Theater. The new story laid entirely in the home town of Carvel, sees Andy Hardy turn amateur detective to help his father in a foreclosure case. It involves him with three pretty girls and consequent hilarious complications with his sweetheart, Polly Benedict.

Martha O'Driscoll and Mickey Rooney in "Judge Hardy and Son"

Then the mother of the family is stricken by illness. It is feared she will die. Andy turns from boy to man, inspires his father with a new courage and turns hero to pilot his sister across a raging flood to his mother's bedside. The mother recovers. Andy manages to extricate himself from the girl complications in his life and emerges triumphant and with the white tuxedo he had so long wanted.

George B. Seitz directed the family adventure with his usual deft human touch. Lewis Stone as the Judge has some unusually dramatic moments, including the "man-to-man" talk with Andy, as played by Mickey Rooney, who rises to dramatic heights in the sequence where his mother's death is feared. Cecilia Parker is the pretty older sister, Fay Holden the wife and mother, and Sara Haden plays Aunt Milly. Ann Rutherford as Polly Benedict figures in several piquant episodes with Mickey.

The three new charmers in Mickey's life are enacted by June Preisser, Martha O'Driscoll and Margaret Early, all very easy to look upon. An outstanding performance is given by Maria Ouspenskaya, eminent Russian actress of "The Rains Came" fame. Another interesting episode is between Mickey and Joe Yule, his father. They play together for the first time in pictures in "Judge Hardy and Son."

Miniature Talking Room Display Set

Did you ever hear a room talking?

Perhaps it sounds like a fairy tale but it's actually another wonder in this modern world.

W. & J. Sloane of San Francisco presents the 9th, straight from Rockerfeller Center, N. Y., the famous talking rooms. Enzo Yocca, former Italian Marquis, built the minature furniture used in the collection. Each tiny room is an object lesson in interior decoration.

As one studies the delightful color scheme and the amazing perfection of every detail, a voice tells just how the colors have been chosen to harmonize with the basic color of the rug . . . .

The rooms which measure 24 to 36 inches, are made to a scale of 1½ inches to the foot and every piece of furniture used is an actual scale model of a full size piece. Chairs, tables, lamps and small paintings are so skillfully fashioned that it is difficult to believe one is looking at a minature.

Full Day Of Events For July 4

A full day of events designed to attract both old and young, preceded by a dance the night before, was outlined for a July 4 celebration in Redwood City this year when members of the Recreation Fund Committee met Monday at the call of Chairman Ole S. Oleson.

Under provisional plans, the program would start with a parade at 10 a.m., followed by one event after another and climaxing in an hour's display of fireworks in the evening.

It was decided to invite the Redwood City Humane Society to stage its annual pet show and parade in conjunction with the celebration.

Attempts also will be made to promote horse riding events and numerous sports competitions similar to those held last year. Concessions operated by various clubs, civic organizations and fraternal groups would be open throughout the day.

Profits from the celebration would go into the recreation center building fund. The event, with a western theme, would be held at the recreation center.

Named as committee chairmen by Oleson were the following: City Recreation Director Alfred Morton, dance, queen contest, sports events, grounds; Ferris W. Miles, prizes for sports competition; Eugene Cerqui, horse events; L. E. Wolbert, amusements; Peter Sorensen, concessions; Oleson, fireworks.

Announcement of appointment of a chairman for the parade and for the pet show, if staged in conjunction with the celebration, will be made later, Oleson said.

Under present plans, all events such as the horse riding and sports competition, pet show and other items would be free of charge, the celebration being designed mainly to draw Peninsulans into Redwood City.

Many Attend Rites For Angela Botto

Hundreds of friends she had made during her 65 years of residence here, and her relatives, paid a final tribute Monday to Mrs. Angela Botto when funeral services were held at Layng & Tinney Funeral Home, followed by requiem mass at Mt. Carmel Church. Pall bearers were Charles Agrotti, John and Eugene Cerqui, and Peter, Ernest and George Locatelli. Eight members of the Italian-Catholic Federation in uniform led prayers at the services. Mrs. Botto died Friday. She was 84.

Tortoise-shell tom cats are rare, but females are plentiful.

TROUBLE FOR TWO

This meeting between Betty Field and Burgess Meredith causes strange complications in the story of "Of Mice And Men," the John Steinbeck novel which Hal Roach screened for United Artists release at the Fox Sequoia Theater last night. This feature will play again tonight and Saturday on a double bill with "Congo Maisie."

Republicans Select Slate

With a slate of 44 uninstructed delegates scheduled to go on the May 1 presidential primary ballot, as a result of a meeting of Republican leaders in Los Angeles over the weekend, the names of the following from this congressional district were listed:

Bradford M. Melvin, San Mateo; Ruth Comfort Mitchell Young, Los Gatos; Worth A. Brown, Capitola, and F. E. Dayton, Salinas. Melvin and Mrs. Young are at-large delegates, as are Leo E. Anderson, San Marino, and Edith W. van de Water, Long Beach. The remaining 40 delegates were chosen two from each congressional district.

State Sen. Jerrold Seawell was named to head the slate.

The Republican leaders, representing state and county central committees and leading California Republican organizations, agreed the delegation would not be bound to the unit rule at the national convention, but would vote individually on all issues and candidates placed before the Philadelphia convention June 24.

William F. Knowland of Oakland, Republican national committeeman, said it was unlikely any other Republican slate would appear on the primary ballot as all California Republicans were in agreement on the slate.

Max Leonard Heads County Employes

San Mateo County Employe's Association Monday night elected Max J. Leonard, agricultural commissioner, president, and William Williamson, road department employe, secretary after the incumbents, Al Bullivant and William Michel, withdrew. There was no contest, it was explained. Miss Hilda Schneider, public health nurse, was named vice president and John Garland, milk inspector, was re-elected treasurer.

Four new directors were elected: B. G. Kost, relief home superintendent; William Boynton, member of the controller's staff; Mrs. Mona Christensen, deputy probation officer, and William Curtiss of Community Hospital. The two holdover members are O. J. Hobson of the engineer's department, and George Miller, road department garage foreman.

Mark Larwood, deputy assessor, gave a brief report on the civil service committee's activities. Leonard announced the board of directors would meet next week to name standing committees.

EXPERIENCES AS REFUGEE DURING CHINA'S BOXER REBELLION TOLD

SAN CARLOS, Feb. 29—Her experiences as a refugee to Japan during the Boxer Rebellion in China were told by Mrs. A. P. Parker, who has spent a great deal of her life in China, to members of the Junior Matrons and their guests at the annual press day luncheon yesterday at the San Carlos Community Church.

At the time of the Boxer uprising, Mrs. Parker was a school teacher in Soochow. She related numerous other anecdotes and spoke of the Soong family of which Madame Chiang Kai-Shek is the youngest daughter. Mrs. Parker is the mother of Mrs. Harold Sorg, program chairman of the Matrons.

To carry out the Chinese theme, the luncheon tables, which seated more than 100, were decorated with Oriental arrangements of pink and white Spring blossoms. Guests of honor for the day who were introduced by Mrs. Fred Berlin, publicity chairman, were Mrs. Russell H. Coleman, Mrs. L. E. Lafferty, Mrs. Charles Page and Miss Betty Stecker.

Hostesses who served the luncheon were headed by Mrs. H. C. Davis. Members of the committee were Mrs. P. M. Buck, Mrs. E. M. Widdas, Mrs. S. A. Fryer, Mrs. P. C. Clarkin and Mrs. J. H. Hanson.

A brief business session preceded the program during which the following were appointed to the nominating committee: Mrs. L. J. Tobey, chairman, Mrs. R. J. Nixon, Mrs. E. D. Moyles, Mrs. J. J. Durham and Mrs. Robert F. Aitken.

Named to the queen committee to select the group's candidate for the Men's Club Carnival May 18 were Mrs. L. P. Hopkins, chairman, Mrs. Earl Crawford, Mrs. R. T. Pratt and Mrs. I. L. Walker.

Werder's Nomination Papers are Filed

Nomination papers placing his name on the ballot for the special election Apr. 9, were filed at the city hall here for William M. Werder, automobile dealer, by Norman S. Menifee, Redwood City attorney who circulated the petition.

Those who signed the petition making Werder a candidate for the city council were:

W. W. Hilton, jeweler; Henry Witte, realtor; Margaret E. Chapman, realtor; Daniel R. Stafford, realtor; Cuthbert B. Currie, attorney; James L. Flynn, Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co.; Otis M. Carrington, teacher; C. E. Ward, clergyman; Dove H. Beeger, housewife; William D. Ryan, merchant; L. E. Doolittle, painting contractor; Joe S. Farr, cabinet maker, and L. W. Jenkins, secretary-treasurer.

Zoning of Belmont Into 4 Areas Set

BELMONT, Feb. 27—Belmont City Council last night introduced a rezoning ordinance which will divide the incorporated town into four zones, including two residential classes, business and commercial zone, and an industrial zone.

The ordinance, the result of several months of work by the Belmont Planning Commission, is composed of 22 pages. Adoption is scheduled for the next meeting, Mar. 25.

Belmont's annual Clean Up Week will be held May 4-11, the council decided. Request for the seven-day period was made by the Belmont Chamber of Commerce and Improvement Club.

The council adopted a resolution of intention to close College Way, which extends from Solger Dr. south to the College of Notre Dame, about 100 feet. Petitioner for closing the thoroughfare was the California Water Service Co.

Bermuda consists of a group of 360 islands.

MENLO PARK NEWS

DEADLINE ANNOUNCED

MENLO PARK, Feb. 29—The time for filing nomination papers for the municipal election on Apr. 9 closes on Mar. 9. Registration of voters for the local contest expires on Mar. 29. There are three candidates aspiring for the two vacancies on the board of trustees. The latest to file is Paul H. Bryant of Paraiso Park. There will be no opposition to the other officials.

The storm this week caused a big cave-in on Creek Dr. This was the only serious damage in Menlo Park, although many trees and fences were blown down. "Cooper Lake," near the fire house, overflowed its confines. Someone put up a sign in the center of it which read: "No shooting except on permission of the city council."

Teddy, a valuable hunting dog owned by Edward O'Keefe, died of pneumonia last week. The animal had been at the Hugh Porter kennels and was given to Mr. O'Keefe as a pup. It was raised and trained by him. Teddy was a distant relative of the famous setter, Glenn O'Dawn, which won trophies in England and Ireland a half century ago.

A beautiful young lady in Menlo Park is preparing her wedding gowns for her forthcoming marriage just after Lent. Who is the man?

The election for a member of the Menlo Park Fire District takes place on Apr. 1. H. J. Jepsen is a candidate to succeed himself. He will be opposed by J. A. Sullivan of Crane Ave., and C. B. Weltner, Menlo Oaks.

FORMER RESIDENT DIES

HALF MOON BAY, Feb. 29—Mrs. Alma Smith, a former resident, passed away at her San Francisco home Friday. She was the widow of the late Bert Smith and mother of the late Jessie and Cora Smith. She leaves a son, Bert, two grandchildren, Dorothy and Virginia Smith, a brother, Edward Ullman, and two sisters, Mrs. Olga Buehn and Mrs. Hilda Swartz. She was a native of Germany.

$6000 Bond Issue For Sports Field Placed on Ballot

MENLO PARK, Feb. 28—Menlo Park's City Council, unable to obtain a unanimous vote on a single proposition last night, nevertheless voted to place on the ballot at the Apr. 9 election a $6000 special bond issue, and also voted to amend an ordinance to effect an increase in the salaries of the city clerk and city treasurer.

The two latter proposals brought vigorous objection from Henry Carroll, police commissioner, who told his fellow-members: "I believe that any prospective increase in the salary of city clerk or treasurer should be placed on the ballot, since these are elective offices."

Mayor James E. Cooper in reply told the council:

"I favor these increases in salary for I am ashamed of the salaries paid these people at present, and I happen to know certain people in this town well enough to know that a salary increase couldn't get a majority vote."

The action taken—introduction of an ordinance amending the present law—will increase the city clerk's salary from $100 to $125, and the treasurer's salary from $35 to $50.

The councilmen also voted to place on the ballot at the April 9 election a proposition to pay each councilman $5 for each meeting of the council he attends, not to exceed the sum of $10 a month. Harry Lusk, one of two councilmen whose terms expire in April, refused to vote on this proposition.

If the proposal is successful, it will affect only the two men who step into councilmen's post after April. The incumbents cannot receive pay, City Atty. James O'Keefe explained.

Details of the bond issue election were clarified. The total project for improvement of the city's recreation center calls for expenditure of $52,000. Of this amount, $39,000 would come from the federal government through some agency, $7000 would be obtained in credit, representing the city's investment in land and property on which the recreation park development is situated, and the remaining $6000 would be secured by the passage of the bond issue itself.

When the election ordinance came up for a vote, Councilman Lusk was the lone dissenting member of the council, voting "no" to placing the measure on the ballot.

The city council approved a three-year lease at $12.50 a month for the rental of a building on Oak Grove Ave. for use as an arts and crafts center for the municipality's recreation program. The lease may be concluded at any time with 60 days' notice, the city attorney declared.

SCOUT SKATING PARTY

WOODSIDE, Feb. 29—Twelve boys of the Woodside-Portola Boy Scout Troop, accompanied by their scoutmasters, L. E. John and King Harris, went on a skating party Friday evening at the Peninsular Rink.

Many people have an instinctive dislike for bats. Yet these little mammals are useful to man, for they feed almost entirely on insects.

Murphy, westernmost town in North Carolina, long land-locked, will soon find itself a lake city. Water from Hiawassee Dam will back several miles right up to the city limits.

Nowadays, the average white person, up to the age of 25, has about one chance in 30 of eventually dying from tuberculosis. Less than two decades ago the chances were twice as great.

AIR-CONDITIONING MACHINE WITH 15 INNOVATIONS INVENTED

An air-conditioning machine, which has 15 separate design claims filed in the United States Patent Office, and is regarded by government housing experts as one of the most efficient available for homes, is the invention of a Redwood City man.

He is H. J. Moloney, who lives at 138 Oak Knoll Dr. and whose distributing headquarters for the unit are located in San Francisco.

Mr. Moloney, for years a research engineer in heating and air conditioning, explained that his air-conditioning unit, so far as he knew, was the only one which combined certain features not found in any other machine.

The unit sprays and purifies the air, eliminating grease, smoke and dust particles, before sending the water-cooled or water-heated air into the room. The gas coil heating unit, itself, is located in the basement, and there is no danger from gas in the room, Mr. Moloney explained.

Maintenance of humidity above 50 per cent, below which is said to be unhealthful, is automatic. Impurities in the air collected are discharged outside the house, and the unit automatically cleans itself.

Mr. Moloney manufactures his product under the name of Al-weather Air Conditioning Co.

Road Beautification Meeting Set Friday

As another step in the move to beautify Skyline Blvd. along the Peninsula, leaders in city, county and state planning will lunch at the Palace Hotel Friday to prepare for a survey to determine the cost and extent of the beautification project, according to Joseph S. Thompson, chairman, and C. G. Norris, vice chairman, of the citizens' planning committee sponsoring the undertaking.

The survey will provide the basis for an application for a WPA appropriation to aid the project.

Meanwhile, Thompson and Norris sent out invitations to 400 people in San Mateo, Santa Cruz, Santa Clara and San Francisco Counties asking them to aid the movement.

"The projectors of this plan envisage one of the most beautiful drives in the world, a highway lined with native trees, flowering shrubs and plants and wildflowers at selected points," they said.

"Demands on the time of the committeemen will be limited and no financial obligation will be entailed. Meetings will be held at central convenient points and not too frequently.

"The plan for the highway has met with popular favor. Chambers of commerce, improvement clubs, the National Park Service and other groups have expressed interest."

British engineers are studying Western United States reclamation projects to determine if such projects can be adapted to areas of low rainfall in the Union of South Africa.

EXCHANGE HEARS MEMBERS

Redwood City Exchange Club members Tuesday heard autobiographical talks by four recently-received members: Dr. John Cranfield, veterinarian; F. Edmund O'Connell, attorney; Dr. Stanton R. Burns, dentist, and Charles P. Williams, typewriter service man, and transacted business at its session at Cafe de Paris. Emil G. Steinegger was chairman.

Ralston Widow, Son Bequeathed Estate

John T. Ralston, resident of the county 32 years, who died Feb. 14, left an estate valued in excess of $10,000 to his wife, Alice, and son, John E. Ralston, both of North Fair Oaks, according to a will filed for probate in superior court here.

The will, dated Sept. 1, 1927, gave her the home she formerly occupied with Mr. Ralston on the San Gregorio-Half Moon Bay Rd., plus 2½ acres of land and all personal property. He also bequeathed her 2 acres of land at Fairmead, Madera County.

To his son, Mr. Ralston left his share of the old Ralston Ranch, with the proviso that the income should be divided equally between him and the widow until her death.

School Head Praises Stand

By DALLAS E. WOOD

California newspaper publishers who are urging that public schools below collegiate grade return to the abandoned stress on education in grammar and syntax as necessary tools for effective expression in speech and writing, have an enthusiastic ally in Walter F. Dexter, state superintendent of public instruction and director of education.

In a previous article I called attention to the recommendation submitted by the education committee of the California Newspaper Publishers' Association at its last state convention, which read as follows:

"Because thorough grounding in grammar and syntax are vitally important for successful editorial work, as well as for work in numerous other lines, and the schools and colleges are graduating so many students who are woefully deficient in those branches, we recommend that the State Board of Education be asked to require the elementary schools of the state to give more attention to formal instruction in those subjects."

ACHIEVEMENT SOUGHT

Expressing whole-hearted approval of that objective, Superintendent Dexter states in a communication, "We are trying to move in that direction."

Mr. Dexter calls attention to a section of the school code (section 3.762) which has been in effect repealed by non-observance by schools whose administrators adhere to the theory that drill in the celebrated Three R's is of diminished importance. That section of school law quoted by Superintendent Dexter provides: "A minimum of 50 per cent of each school week must be devoted to reading, writing, language study, spelling and arithmetic in grades one to six inclusive, and a minimum of 600 minutes of each school week must be devoted to such subjects in grades seven and eight."

The problem of language textbooks for the lower schools has been engaging the attention of the State Department of Education for the past three years. Because of the cost of the books the case has been taken to the courts for settlement, and is now before the District Court of Appeals in San Francisco.

CHEAPER BOOKS DUE

Superintendent Dexter states: "The result of this litigation will be twofold: First, a more reasonable price of books, and, second, a better type of text. As soon as this case is settled attention will be given to the problem of editing, printing and distributing as fine a series of language books as it is possible for us to get under the circumstances."

The provision of suitable textbooks is but part of the battle for assuring a more thorough education for grammar grade and high school students in the fundamentals of correct speech and writing which, under the present pedagogical system, is relegated largely to the very inadequate three-months "bonehead English" course in college. The next big part of the battle is inducing the schools to make affective use of those texts.

Superintendent Dexter allies himself with the newspaper publishers in this crusade by the following statement: "I have repeatedly said to the teachers of the State of California since taking office on Feb. 21, 1937, that it is the duty of the instructor to teach children to read efficiently, figure accurately, spell correctly, write legibly, and withal speak effectively. There are, of course, other aims and requirements, but according to the school code these should always be considered of primary emphasis. While emphasizing the necessity of efficient methods of teaching, such a program stimulates the development of good habits of thinking which in turn is the basis of moral and ethical advancement.

"Let me assure you again that I am appreciative of the attitude of the press of California relative to this important subject."

Atherton Approves New Service Station

ATHERTON, Feb. 28—A building permit was approved yesterday by the Atherton Town Council for an all-steel service and lubrication station which will be erected for $7500 by the Standard Oil Co. on El Camino Real and Almendral Ave. in Atherton.

The new structure will replace one which has been located on the westerly side of El Camino Real for a number of years. Work will begin shortly.

A one-year contract renewal for the disposal of garbage was granted with the stipulation that the garbage collectors enter the residential district at a later hour than they have during the past year.

The council appropriated $20 for the purchase of a bicycle rack to be placed outside the Atherton Southern Pacific depot.

Commuters Form New Club Here

Formation in Redwood City of a permanent civic organization to be known as the Commuters Club was announced this week.

Temporary officers are Wrex W. Cruse, president; William B. Curran, vice president; Russell L. Saunders, secretary-treasurer, and Charles Mish, sergeant-at-arms.

Aims of the organization were outlined provisionally when a score of commuter residents met Monday night in the city hall. Although no exact definition of the new organization's purposes and objectives was announced pending report of a by-law committee, it was stated that the club would be non-political and non-partisan, and would have for its objective civic betterment and the protection of commuter interests, both in and out of Redwood City.

"There has been a long-felt need for such an organization," said President Cruse. "Those of us who live in Redwood City and work in San Francisco are for the most part local property owners and taxpayers, and we have just as much interest and pride in the success and development of our community, the condition of its schools, its recreational facilities and the administration of its affairs, as those who earn their living in Redwood City. Too often, however, we feel that we have been 'pushed around' a bit.

"We do not propose to become a pressure group to serve any selfish interests, nor do we intend to allow any individual or group to use this organization as a political springboard, but we do propose to be conscious of our political strength, as fellow citizens and taxpayers seeking to serve the best interests of our home community."

Next regular meeting was set for Thursday night, Mar. 14, at the city hall. By-laws will be adopted and the club officially launched.

On the by-laws committee are C. W. Brizee, Earl F. Clegg, Curran, Cruse, Gene Hoffman, Mish, Russell L. Saunders, R. J. Swanson, James Toso and Paul A. McCarthy.

Officers and committees are to serve for 60 days only, at the end of which time permanent officers and directors will be elected.

Those in charge of the meeting Monday announced that all those who turn out for the formal organization meeting Mar. 14 would become charter members without initiation dues. It was further stated that any Redwood resident who earns his living outside of Redwood City, and who commutes thereto by train, bus or private automobile, is eligible to join the Commuters Club.

Travel Help Through Stations Is Planned

Chamber of Commerce secretaries from Redwood City, Palo Alto, San Mateo, Burlingame and South San Francisco will meet at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow in the Redwood City City Hall to discuss with representatives of the major oil companies plans for travel stimulation through the medium of service stations on the Peninsula in connection with the 1940 San Francisco Exposition.

Roscoe D. Wyatt, secretary of the Redwood City Chamber of Commerce, said a plan is under way to educate attendants in stations throughout the Peninsula so that they will be able to answer tourists' questions on historic points, and also to suggest likely side trips for tourists attending the exposition.

Junior Mariners Get National Publicity

Containing a picture of Capt. L. F. Bosshardt of Redwood City and the 78-foot schooner White Cloud which he, Mrs. Bosshardt and two junior mariners are sailing back to Redwood City from the East coast, the Exchangite, national publication of the Exchange Club, devotes an article in its February issue just received here to Redwood City's Junior Mariners.

With a circulation of 50,000, the Exchangite thus is carrying publicity for Redwood City and the marine-training group to every section of the nation. The magazine devoted space to the project because of aid given to it by the local Exchange Club. The White Cloud carries a banner of the Redwood City club as it sails out of Miami on charter trips which it is planned to make before sailing to the Port of Redwood City in the late Spring. Dr. Will Rebec of Belmont, owner of the schooner, has agreed to permit the Junior Mariners to use it as a training ship.

Indication that the Exchangite's article attracted attention in at least one other city came today in the form of two letters from Muskegon, Mich., in which Rolland Damm, member of an Exchange Club there, asked both the chamber of commerce and the local Exchange Club for information regarding the mariners. Damm explained that his club was interested and "would appreciate any information you can give us on this subject and how it is handled."

Local Man Heads State Letter Carriers

James DeBenedetti, 1431 Hopkins Ave., Redwood City, has been notified of his election to the presidency of the California Federation of Rural Letter Carriers, an affiliate of the American Federation of Labor, which met last Thursday at Reseda, Calif., for that purpose.

DeBenedetti, for the past 15 years a local rural carrier and a city carrier for 8 years previous, succeeds Frank V. Hall, who died of an heart attack last Tuesday. The new president has been an organizer for the CFRLC for several years.

A movement to establish a 10-hour day was active in England between 1830 and 1847.

The mean depth of all the oceans and seas in the world is estimated from 2 to 2½ miles.

County 'Becoming Health Conscious'

An observation that San Mateo County was becoming "health conscious" was made by Dr. Earl T. Anderson, director of the SRA's division of health, when he spoke before the San Mateo County Health Alliance Tuesday night in San Mateo at a meeting that saw the Central Labor Council's delegates, Mrs. Dolly Purdy and Mrs. Ruth Bradley, presented.

Discussing "County Medical Facilities," Dr. Anderson considered a survey made of the medical social problem that exists among the unemployed and those on relief, and pointed out that people living in metropolitan areas are for the most part unaware of the "primitive medical conditions which still exist in certain counties in California." A positive program for the promotion of health demands active and vigorous anticipation of medical needs before the evils of sickness become manifest, Dr. Anderson explained. Only in this way can health be conserved and the welfare of all citizens be promoted, he stated.

"How can people who are unable to provide food, clothing, and shelter for themselves because of unemployment or other causes, provide medical care for themselves?" Dr. Anderson asked. "It is unfair to expect private physicians to give away their time. It's a big problem but medicine is a living, dynamic institution that can and will try to prevent and cure sickness and thus improve the economic status of the unemployed."

As to San Mateo County, Dr. Anderson remarked that it is becoming health conscious, and pointed out that such social consciousness "is, after all, but a reflection of the general cultural level."

45 Sequoians View Historical Locations

A party of 45 Sequoia High School students, from a social living class under Ronald Anderson, were escorted on a tour of many of the county's historic spots last week by Roscoe D. Wyatt, secretary-manager of the Redwood City Chamber of Commerce.

The party, led by Anderson, started with an inspection of the tomb of S. H. Mezes at Union Cemetery, went up to Skyline Blvd. and almost down to La Honda, back to the skyline and over to Half Moon Bay, up the coast and back by way of San Pedro Valley, Crystal Springs Lakes and Belmont. Many spots visited by the Spanish pioneers who first settled here were viewed by the group.

Market Survey Volume Issued

Presenting a visualization of "Greater California's back country" to national advertisers and advertising agency executives, the California Newspaper Publishers Association Inc. has just completed its 14th annual Markets Survey and Rate Book.

A selling job for both San Mateo and Redwood City, as well as the Tribune, has been achieved in this new pictorial volume, which will go directly into the hands of the men in commerce and industry who allocate funds for advertising of national brands and seek locations for branch factories, assembly plants and distributing plants on the Pacific Coast.

Statistical data regarding the newspapers and their markets is contained in a series of indices in the forepart of the book. The body of the volume is made up of an individual map of each county in the state, showing the towns in that particular county where newspapers are published and the names of the papers.

The Tribune is a member of California Newspapers Publishers Association and is listed in the directory, with details on advertising rate, circulation, day of issue, mechanical and other data.

The San Mateo County unit of the CNPA purchased a full-page advertisement for San Mateo County in the book—one of eight counties to be so represented. Printed on a black background, the San Mateo County ad is striking in appearance. It gives details of recent growth of the Peninsula, tells of its home and industrial possibilities.

In the statistical section of the book, it is disclosed that Redwood City has 71 food stores; 39 eating and drinking places; 11 general merchandise stores; 25 apparel stores; 60 "automotive group" establishments; 18 filling stations; 9 "furniture-household group" stores; 18 lumber, building and hardware stores; 8 drug stores; 4 banks; 2 theaters, and 75 miscellaneous businesses—a total of 340 business establishments.

The book also shows that Redwood City has 3970 families; 3720 telephones; 12 churches, and 10 schools.

Percussion instruments used in orchestras (tympani, drums, tambourines, cymbals and chimes) are so named because they are sharply struck or violently shaken in playing.

Mass production of autos began in the U. S. in 1900, a year when sales totaled 4192.

Two Blazes Put Out Before Fire Spreads

The overabundance of water in Redwood City Tuesday did little to ease the work of the fire department—firemen had to make two runs in answer to alarms, but neither fire caused much damage.

The first blaze occurred at 3:20 p.m. at the home of S. H. Draper, 427 Pine St., when an overheated stove flue started a fire between walls. The owner extinguished the fire but called the department to make a thorough check. There was no fire whistle.

At 8:31 p.m. a fire broke out in a closet in the home of Joseph Cardoza, 1455 Gordon St., but was put out by firemen before it had a chance to spread. Defective wiring was the cause, the fire report shows.

The Washington monument cost $1,300,000.

$1332 Is Received For the Red Cross

With every cent collected going to the Red Ross—all costs of the campaign, including postage, being borne by the Lions Club—Drive Chairman Wayne R. Millington has turned over to Mrs. Z. T. Thorning, Red Cross chapter president, a check for $1332.85 representing the results of the 1939-40 roll call. The amount is the most ever received.

"In view of the fact that we did not receive contributions from the dog tracks," Millington reported, "the increased efforts of the participating organizations is especially worthy of commendation. As usual, not a penny was received from either horse track. Bay Meadows, however, has agreed to include us in their Spring charity day."

Millington listed contributions collected as follows:

American Legion, $20.50; American Legion Auxiliary, $98.50; City of Redwood City, $75.00; Exchange Club, $46.00; Eagles, $30.75; Japanese Association, $25; Lions Club, $34.75; N.S.G.W., $42.50; North Fair Oaks Improvement Club, $49.95; Fire Department, $50.50; Grammar Schools, $62; Sequoia Union High School, $68; United Spanish American War Veterans, $5; Veterans of Foreign Wars, $21; Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary, $28.25; Women's Club, $34; Woodside, $31; Mrs. Mary Winters, $45.50; American Trust Co., $6; Kiwanis Club, $502.65; Mrs. Mary Thorning, $56.

Of the total collections, there were 903 $1 contributions; 25 $5; 13 $10; 4 $25; 1 $50, and $24.85 in less-than-$1 gifts.

COOK the New Way!

CP CERTIFIED PERFORMANCE GAS range

SAVES YOU TIME, FOOD and MONEY

What's new in the modern gas ranges—the C.P. Certified Performance Gas Ranges?

First of all, there is new speed from faster, new-type top burners—faster pre-heating ovens and broilers to save cooking time. Then it is possible to save on food with waterless cooking on the new simmer burners that prevent vegetables from "boiling away" or from the low temperature ovens that reduce meat shrinkage and tenderize the cooking of less expensive cuts of meats. Fuel costs, too, are less because the new burners use less gas and scientific insulation reduces heat loss from oven and broilers.

These are a few of the advantages of the modern C.P. Gas Ranges. You can enjoy them now in your home. Right now, too, you can save money when you buy your Gas Range. Spruce up your kitchen for spring. Save Ten Dollars on a new Gas Range.

Board Wavers On Proposal

Compulsory inoculation of all cats and dogs, stringent anti-rabies measure advocated by Dr. C. C. Gans, county health director, appeared remote today following a conference between members of the board of supervisors and Mrs. Frank Thomas of Palo Alto, state humane officer and first vice president of the State Humane Association.

Mrs. Thomas advocates county-wide licensing of dogs rather than compulsory inoculation, she said.

"Compulsory inoculation," she explained, "builds a false sense of security. It is not 100 per cent effective and is impossible of enforcement. There are both conscientious objectors and evaders."

SPECIAL PRECAUTIONS AGAINST RABIES ASKED

Dr. C. C. Gans, county health director, today issued a special bulletin on emergency measures for rabies control, urging compliance with the following regulations:

(1) Do not permit stray dogs on playgrounds or other places where children congregate; (2) report all dog and animal bites to the health department immediately; (3) go to your family physician immediately for treatment for all animal bites; (4) do not destroy the animal that has bitten other animals or persons unless absolutely necessary.

$1, $2 LICENSE FEES

A license fee of $1 for males and $2 for females would reduce the dog population in the unincorporated areas, she predicted. Strict enforcement of regulations requiring all dogs to be confined or kept on leash would eliminate rabies, she predicted.

"Isolation is the 100 per cent method," she affirmed.

In Santa Clara County, she said, where such a licensing measure is needed, 277 rabid dogs were destroyed and 1000 persons were treated for rabies in the 14 months prior to last October in the epidemic which brought about a state-imposed quarantine and drastic control measures in the county.

The county, she said, was finally forced to place an expert in charge, and to put three trucks in the field to round up strays. Each truck was manned by two men. She urged a similar control program for San Mateo County.

BIGGER STAFF URGED

Increasing personnel in the county pound department, and insistence on inoculation in epidemic conditions as provided by state law were favored by members of the board expressing themselves at the caucus.

In the official meeting yesterday afternoon the board sold 62 Redwood City tax lots to the city for $340. The lots were situated in the Central Park No. 2, Homestead Addition, West Redwood, and Whitton and Montgomery subdivisions.

Installation of a new pump for the North Fair Oaks sewer district at a cost of $850 was approved.

Eagles To Send Boy To California 'State'

Decision to send one of the Sequoia High School students to California Boy's State this Summer in Sacramento was made by the local Fraternal Order of Eagles at their last regular meeting. The addition of two new members, Charles V. Reed by initiation and Julius P. Disner by transfer card from Denver, Colo., also took place. Final plans will be made at Friday's meeting regarding the banquet in San Francisco's Chinatown for those members who have candidates initiated in the Mar. 15 class.

Rain Disrupts Plans for Trap On Roads Here

Plans for a highway trap in San Mateo County were disrupted by rain Sunday, but state highway patrolmen, deputy sheriffs and liquor enforcement officers in Santa Clara County stopped 6000 cars and issued 220 citations. Rain halted the drive there at 2 a.m.

No serious accidents were reported in the San Mateo County highway patrol area.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Bruecker, San Mateo, and Ed Green of Los Angeles narrowly escaped drowning when their automobile skidded across the wet Bayshore Hwy. pavement near Mills Field Saturday night, rolled completely over and came to rest in a ditch to the east of the right-of-way.

SINKS IN SLOUGH

The vehicle sank rapidly in the water and mud of the slough. The two men scrambled to the nearby bank, but Mrs. Bruecker was stranded on the car roof, waiting for help to come. She made her way to the bank just before an attendant from Mills Field arrived with a rope. None of the trio was hurt. Bruecker explained that he applied his brakes suddenly to avoid a slow-moving vehicle ahead when the car went into a skid.

CRASH VICTIM DIES

James Tucker, 29, San Francisco automobile salesman injured in a headon collision at Redwood City Friday, died late Saturday in Palo Alto Hospital.

Auto Club Relocates; Plans New Offices

SAN MATEO, Feb. 28—Removal of the California State Automobile Association's headquarters from 100 El Camino Real, San Mateo, at the Crystal Springs Rd. intersection, to 116 B St., San Mateo, was followed today by the announcement that the association will construct permanent headquarters at Ellsworth St. and First Ave. shortly.
